

Ohio Gambling Law Tightened In Legislature

House Passes Bill To Boost Penalties Against Participants

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Anti-gambling measures to boost penalties for participation in the numbers, off-track horse racing and sports pool rackets passed the Ohio House today and went to the Senate.

In general, they provide fines of $500 and six months in jail for first offenders and make subsequent violations penalties carrying a maximum $1,000 fine and three years in prison.

Sponsors said the bills are designed to clamp a lid on gambling and policy operations throughout the state in the manner that severe penalties have curbed slot machine and illegal narcotics rackets.

Over in the Senate, where smoke is just clearing after Wednesday's hardfought 24-13 decision to give local governments $5 million more for road work, four bills are scheduled for vote.

Included is a House-approved bill providing that, when a conservancy district is dissolved, funds are repaid to the participating counties according to the ratio in which they originally were contributed.

Wednesday's decision by the Senate to join the House in approving the $15 million diversion bill doesn't signal the end of the long battle over the measure.

Sen. Ross Pepple, R-Allen, who hasn't shown too much love for the measure even though it is a Republican platform bill, offered an amendment on the floor to make the effective date Jan. 1, 1962. The amendment was approved, so now the bill goes back to the House in order that representatives—who passed the measure March 8—can consider the change.

All 19 Republicans present voted for the bill, as did 5 Democrats. If those 24 votes hold firm, there would be one more than enough to override Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's expected veto. Sen. Lowell Fess, R-Greene, chairman of the Highway Committee, was the only Republican who did not show up.

The bill gives $15 million presently withheld from license fee income to counties, cities, villages and townships. These local governments get the rest of the license tag income, but the $15 million was withheld to operate the Ohio Department of Highway Safety.

The Ohio Highway Department fought the measure tooth and nail because, if it becomes law, the safety department will be financed from $15 million in gasoline tax income now used by the Highway Department. The Highway Department has had exclusive use of this money—from the last two cents of the gas tax—since the tax was imposed two years ago.

Ohio Wesleyan Prexy under Fire

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP)—Ohio Wesleyan University's student council in a chapel meeting attended by about 1,700 students, faculty members and Delaware citizens Wednesday urged that a new university president be selected.

The action came on the heels of support given President David A. Lockmiller by university trustees last weekend.

The student council action was another move in the Lockmiller-faculty feud brewing on the campus for the past year. President Lockmiller, who sat in the audience at Wednesday's gathering, said today:

"The board of trustees has heard various parties and expressed full confidence in me, and I hope that all who are interested in the university will now cooperate."

Anti-Castro Cubans Fear Rebel Strike Came Too Late

GUANTANAMO BAY, Cuba (AP)—Anti-Castro Cubans in Oriente Province are reported fearful that rebel invaders waited too long to strike, that the Fidel Castro government had enough time to round up the potential leaders of the uprising on which the invaders count.

An American source thoroughly familiar with the activities of Cubans in this eastern end of the island where Fidel Castro started his revolution said the population hopes the counterrevolution will succeed.

Rusk Labels Rebel Action As Resistance

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk today described this week's action by anti-Castro Cubans as not a major invasion but a type of resistance, likely to go on.

Rusk made the comment on the apparently ill-fated Cuban invasion as he boarded a plane on a speaking trip to Atlanta, Ga. He said both President Kennedy and he would have more to say about the matter later.

Kennedy is addressing the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

Rusk recalled that at his Monday news conference, held just after news of the Cuban fighting reached the United States, he had said the affair did not appear to be a large-scale invasion.

Reaffirming this today, Rusk said it was an operation under taken by "a group of courageous men who returned to Cuba determined to do what they could to assist the people in establishing freedom in that island."

Asked whether this marked an end to the attempt to overthrow the pro-Communist Fidel Castro regime, Rusk replied in the negative by declaring the action was "a type of resistance being shown by the Cuban people over many months and likely to go on."

Capital Punishment Bills Are All Shelved

New Tax Plan Aimed at Aiding U.S. Business

Kennedy Suggestion Would Help Create 500,000 New Jobs

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy today sent Congress a tax plan which he said would help modernize American business and create 500,000 jobs. He said a possible general tax cut should wait until next year.

The President said his proposals would attack "expense account living," discourage tax cheating and reduce the worrisome flow of U.S. dollars abroad without cutting into federal revenues.

In a 6,300-word special message Kennedy described his program as a "first though urgent step" toward broad tax reform in 1962—reform which he said could combine elimination of loopholes and discriminatory provisions with a lowering of basic tax rates.

These were among the most notable items in the first-step package:

A special tax incentive for business to modernize and expand, withholding of taxes on dividends and interest, repeal of the special tax treatment given dividends, and discouragement of corporate investment in competing industrial countries.

Kennedy also proposed stricter curbs on tax-deductible expense accounts, the elimination of foreign "tax havens" and the collection of taxes from high-income Americans—notably movie stars—who move abroad in the hope of escaping the U.S. income tax.

He said the business investment incentive would cut revenues by $1.7 billion a year. However, he said the other items would offset this and leave at least $50 million to spare.

Many of the specifics were sure to stir controversy aplenty. However, there could be little argument over Kennedy's main objectives: to stimulate the economy, make U. S. business more competitive with fast-stepping foreign competition, and reduce the nation's balance of payments deficit.

The key item, and perhaps the most controversial, was the proposed tax incentive for business expansion and modernization. In essence, Kennedy would permit companies to subtract from their tax bills an amount equal to part of their annual investment in new or improved facilities.

Many businessmen already have indicated opposition to this "tax credit" idea. Some have said they would rather be allowed to increase their depreciation allowances; that is, the amount they can set aside, free from tax, to offset the inevitable aging of new or improved facilities which must eventually be replaced.

Grand Jury Handed Cincy Slaying Case

CINCINNATI (AP)—Jack Rauss, former Ohio Wesleyan football player, faces grand jury action on two charges of first-degree murder.

Judge William Keating in Municipal Court ordered the action. Rauss, 27, said nothing at the hearing. He was held without bond.

Police said Rauss admitted killing Mrs. Gladys Cunningham, 55, longtime friend of his mother, last Saturday because she made a remark about his mother, then killed her husband, Jack Cunningham, 67, because he might have identified him.

Something Seen Amiss in Cuba

Even Castro Victory May Mark His Doom

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst
MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—What the Havana radio proclaimed today as a triumph for the Castro regime over its enemies may yet turn out to be the beginning of its downfall.

There were some things wrong with the Havana proclamation. First, the voice of the "maximum leader" still was curiously missing.

Second, it conceded that anti-Castro guerrillas had dispersed into hiding. The anti-Castro revolutionary council claims they have joined up with holdout rebels in the Escambray Mountains and if so, they are beginning a resistance oddly similar to the one which brought the 26th of July Movement to power after a long hit-and-run struggle.

Since the victory of Fidel Castro's 26th of July Movement on New Year's Day, 1959, there has been no pronouncement as important to the regime as the one this morning.

In the past, Castro himself never missed an opportunity to make an announcement of major importance. Invariably he has taken to radio and television and spoke for four or five hours at a stretch on matters far less critical than the business before the regime today.

What has happened to him? Is he just playing it safe, cagily staying in the background until the smoke clears? That would be unlike him. Castro has had a penchant for lumbering loudly in-

Senate Poised To OK Kennedy Floor on Pay

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate today passed President Kennedy's bill raising the $1 an hour minimum wage to $1.25 by 1963 and bringing 4,086 million additional workers under the act.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate is expected to pass President Kennedy's minimum wage bill today by a margin of 25 to 30 votes.

With Kennedy as floor manager, the Senate approved a similar measure last August 62 to 34. Administration lieutenants expect a similar margin this time.

Action on all amendments was completed late Wednesday after backers of the President's bill had succeeded in beating down all efforts to reduce the measure's provisions.

But Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana delayed the final hour of debate and vote until today after several senators said Wednesday night they were anxious to get away for speaking engagements.

With no further changes possible, the Senate is certain to pass the legislation in the form Kennedy recommended it.

This calls for an increase in the $1 an hour wage floor to $1.25 by 1963 and coverage of 4 million more employees under the wages and hours act. Most of these workers would be in retail stores, service establishments and construction jobs.

Kennedy Says of Cuba:

U.S. Restraint Not Inexhaustable

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy declared today the United States will not hesitate in meeting its obligations to its own security in the Cuban situation—should that become necessary.

In an address prepared for the America Society of Newspaper Editors, Kennedy again said that unilateral American intervention in Cuba would have been contrary to traditions and international obligations, "but let the record show that our restraint is not inexhaustable."

"Should it ever appear," Kennedy added, "that the inter-American doctrine of noninterference merely conceals or excuses a policy of nonaction—if the nations of this hemisphere should fail to meet their commitments against outside Communist penetration—then I want it clearly understood that this government will not hesitate in meeting its primary obligations which are to the security of our own nation."

Kennedy said that the Cuban guerrilla fighters, aligned against the Fidel Castro regime are determined that Cuba must not be abandoned to the Communists. "And we do not intend to abandon it," he said.

Threats Made To Jurors in Warren Case

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Two jurors in the armed robbery trial of Ronnie Carabba, 32, of Struthers, Wednesday told a reporter of receiving telephoned threats.

Two alternates jurors were named by Judge G. H. Birrell to replace William S. Reid and Howard H. Rider, both of Niles, before the jury began deliberating.

The common pleas jury acquitted Carabbi of participating in the $20,000 Griswold Co. store holdup here in November 1958.

Rider said he told the judge he received a telephone call about 5 p. m. Tuesday and the caller asked if he was in good health.

"If you want to stay that way, see that our buddy gets off tomorrow," Rider quoted the caller as saying.

Reid said he had received a similar threat.

Richard Stanley, former Warren policeman, who came from a hospital to testify, was the chief witness for the state. He was shot mysteriously in his home last month. Stanley, a parolee burglar, testified last year in the trial of Joseph (Fats) Aiello of Youngstown, who also was acquitted of participating in the Griswold holdup.

Stanley had accused Carabba of being a member of a robbery-burglar ring which operated in Warren. Carabba denied he had anything to do with the robbery.

Ohio Senators Split

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ohio Democratic Sens. Frank J. Lausche and Stephen M. Young disagreed on an amendment to reduce coverage under the minimum wage bill Wednesday. In the roll call which defeated the amendment 56-39, Lausche voted for the amendment, Young against it.

don't either," the President said. "The Cuban people have not yet spoken their final piece—and I have no doubt that they will continue to speak up for a free and independent Cuba."

Nor Kennedy said, will this country accept Castro's attempts to blame the United States for the hatred his onetime supporters now have for his repression.

The President's address amounted to a major foreign policy pronouncement.

His audience, the annual meeting of the newspaper society, was the same forum before which Castro insisted two years ago that: "We are not Communists."

Eichmann Calm During Hearing

Israeli Judges Hear Playback of Recording

JERUSALEM (AP)—Adolf Eichmann was cool and matter of fact—with one notable exception—during the long sessions when he told his story to his Israeli captors and a tape recorder, an informed source said today.

"He showed a little feeling when he said he expects to get the death sentence," the Israeli informant reported.

"I know I may face a sentence of death," said Eichmann in a recorded statement that was played back Wednesday for the three-judge court trying him on charges of mass murder of Europe's Jews.

"I cannot claim mercy because I am not worthy of it," Eichmann continued. "I should have hanged myself in public so that all the anti-Semites in the world would have had these terrible events emphasized for them."

"He was quite businesslike the rest of the time," the Israeli source reported, "but he seemed moved, a little emotional, when he read this."

Seventy-seven cartons of tapes were made of the long hours of interrogation that followed Eichmann's capture in Argentina last year. The prosecution Wednesday began playing back excerpts at the trial, bringing into the record the former SS officer's own version of the Nazis' "final solution of the Jewish Problem"—meaning total annihilation of Europe's Jewry—and the part he played in it.

The trial is in recess today while Israel celebrates its Independence Day.

When the hearing resumes Friday, Atty. Gen. Gideon Hausner is expected to play tape recording of 437,402 of the 800,000

Officers Nab Escapees after Fast Chase

A fast chase by Fairfield County Sheriff's Deputies and local State Highway Patrolmen ended in the apprehension of two 14-year-old Boys Industrial School escapees last night.

The BIS youths were apprehended by the neighboring county sheriff's department following an accident in the construction area on Route 22 about five miles west of here.

According to State Patrolmen, they received the call at approximately 11 p. m. and headed east on Route 22 to aid in the apprehension.

Patrolmen said the pursuit was halted as the BIS escapees, in a stolen car, crashed through detour signs, a fence and the side of a barn. The auto ended up on its top, officers said.

THE stolen auto, belonging to Denver E. Garrett, Route 2, Amanda, was heavily damaged.

Both 14-year-olds were taken to the Lancaster-Fairfield Hospital and treated for minor cuts and bruises.

Castro Claims Foe Wiped Out

Insurgents Say New Aid Given Guerrillas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Prime Minister Fidel Castro asserted today he has wiped out rebel invaders on Cuba's southern beaches and captured large stores of U.S. arms, including Sherman tanks. But he conceded his forces have suffered heavy losses.

The rebel leaders insisted the main invading force has fought through to guerrillas waiting in the Escambray Mountains of central Cuba to carry on the war against the pro-Communist regime.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk said the operation was not a major invasion but a type of resistance "likely to go on." He declared it was launched by "a group of courageous men who returned to Cuba determined to do what they could to assist the people in establishing freedom in that island."

Shortly after Rusk's statement, a new rebel radio station went on the air, reporting it was established in the Escambray Mountains and declaring the anti-Castro forces landing Monday had carried out their mission.

Calling itself Escambray Libre (Free Escambray), the radio said the invading force had reinforced the guerrillas who for months have been harassing Castro's regime.

An anti-Castro leader in Puerto Rico reported Wednesday night that a new landing had been made in Cuba. He did not give the location of the beachhead.

There were rumors—entirely unconfirmed—that more landings were imminent.

Medic Held In Assault of Psychiatrist

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A suburban Florissant physician was arrested Wednesday on a warrant charging him with assaulting a Toledo, Ohio, psychiatrist with a tear gas gun.

Dr. James G. Middleton, 34, was arrested by county police at his office in suburban Dellwood.

Toledo police said the attack took place in Toledo Wednesday morning when Dr. Jack Kenyon, city psychiatrist, surprised an intruder in his office.

Dr. Kenyon, who signed a warrant charging Dr. Middleton with assault with a dangerous weapon, told police he recognized the intruder as Dr. Middleton, a former intern at two Toledo hospitals.

When Dr. Kenyon confronted him, the intruder fired a tear gas shell from a pen-sized tear gas gun, momentarily blinding the psychiatrist, and fled. Dr. Kenyon was not injured seriously.

Police said a lock on Dr. Kenyon's door had been forced with the intruder had tampered with one of the psychiatrist's case files.

Dr. Middleton was freed on $1,000 bond on a fugitive warrant returnable May 16.

He declined to make a statement and refused to waive extradition.

Methodist Clerics Killed in Angola

NEW YORK (AP)—Eight Methodist pastors have been reported killed in the month-old civil war in the Portuguese African territory of Angola, the Methodist Board of Missions said today.

The mission said the pastors, all Africans, "were killed by either Portuguese civilians or military forces after hurried trials."

At least half the denominations 150 African pastors in Angola "are reported either in prison, have fled with their wives, or have been killed," the board said.

"Reports say that many Methodist churches and schools have been completely destroyed or badly damaged," the board said.

Nixon Finds Kennedy Popular, But Not His Economic Plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — Richard M. Nixon said today he finds a great deal of popular support for President Kennedy as an individual. But he said he finds "very little interest in and virtually no support for his program."

The former vice president told a news conference he believes there is little support "for a program as far to the left as the Kennedy economic program."

Nixon, narrowly defeated by Kennedy for the presidency in last November's election, declined to grade the first 90 days of the new democratic administration but said he would do so in a cross-country speaking tour starting next month.

With a smile, he said that Kennedy had said during the campaign that "he intended to do a great deal in the first 90 days. I think it's not quite fair to hold to 90 days. He ought to be given 10 more days."

Questioned about Kennedy's handling of the crisis in Cuba, Nixon said he had discussed the situation with Republican congressional leaders this morning but was not in a position to say more than that obviously was a very grave crisis.

"Nothing is more irresponsible than for someone outside the government to pop off on an international crisis," he said. "Consequently, I haven't any criticism to make and won't have unless I have some constructive proposal to make to solve the crisis."

He said "our national interest requires the United States to do everything it can, consistent with its treaty obligations, to help the people of Cuba realize their aspirations to have a free and independent country."

Nixon met newsmen at the Capitol in the old Supreme Court room after Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, the Senate and House GOP leaders, held their weekly news conference there.

Touching on a wide variety of political subjects, Nixon reiterated that he is not a candidate for governor of California in 1962 and predicted that the nomination of former Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell as the Republican candidate for governor in New Jersey assures a party victory in that state this year.

Castro Claims

Bay Monday said "Giron Beach, which was the last stronghold of the mercenaries, fell at 5:30 p. m. yesterday."

Signed by Castro as prime minister and commander in chief, the communists claimed their invaders "suffered heavy casualties, dispersing in a swamp area from which no escape is possible." But Castro conceded his forces paid a "high toll in courageous lives."

The prime minister said a "large quantity of arms of American manufacture were captured, including various Sherman heavy tanks."

The Cuban Revolutionary Council, which organized the striking force of Cuban exiles, had said earlier that the "landings" were only a phase of its campaign to overthrow Castro. It disclaimed them as "an invasion."

"We did not expect to topple Castro immediately or without setbacks," the council said in a communique issued Wednesday night in New York.

The rebel command now appeared to be anticipating a mounting guerrilla campaign which they hoped would steadily attract popular support within Cuba, much in the manner of Castro's guerrilla campaign from the mountains of Oriente Province that ultimately brought the downfall of Fulgencio Batista.

The whereabouts of Castro was a mystery. Although a prolific speaker with a penchant for the limelight, he has not been heard over the Cuban radio or seen on television since the insurgents invaded Cuba Monday.

Raul Castro, the prime minister's brother and minister of the armed forces, was reported in Santiago, capital of Oriente Province where he has directed the campaign against rebels in the hills.

The rebel council admitted "tragic losses" but said they occurred among a small holding force whose delaying action enabled the bulk of the rebel force to escape to the mountains.

Castro firing squads continued their work. The Cuban radio said seven more men were executed, including Humberto Sori Marin, a former major in Castro's revolutionary force and his former minister of agriculture.

Lancaster Jail Break Is Foiled

Has he been shoved aside by the Communists, who may feel he committed blunders which interfered with Soviet bloc efforts to organize the country and its economy in the image of a "people's democracy?" It is possible. There have been signs of Soviet annoyance with him.

Is Castro still among the living? He was reported to have been fishing in the Bay of Cochinos area when the first anti-Castro guerrillas hit the beach over the weekend, and may have been in the area of fragmentation bombing.

Castro's name was signed to the proclamation of victory over the rebels. The army command signed the major communique Wednesday, a departure from a custom in which Castro announced everything.

Whatever the answer to the questions, it seems likely that something has happened to change the status of Castro. And something has happened, too, to the status of the regime because of the strike against it by people on the outside who want passionately to return in peace to their homeland.

The regime has no guarantee that there will not be new and greater infiltrations, swelling the small guerrilla resistance now in Cuba to a force which really can threaten to topple the Communist-dominated government in Havana.

Aussies Encourage Tourists To Travel across Equator

By ARTHUR SCHOLLES
Central Press Association
Correspondent

SYDNEY, Australia — Travel agents and government authorities are united in a drive to lure U. S. tourists away from Europe to the South Seas.

Less than one per cent of American visitors who go to Hawaii, travel further south to Australia. Australia, now only 30 hours away by jet from the capitals of the world, has embarked on a massive hotel building scheme to accommodate tourists.

A new hotel in Sydney, when completed, will be 40 stories high. And the largest in the Southern Hemisphere. A similar hotel is under construction in Melbourne, where 20-story buildings for tourists also are planned.

The land of the boomerang and the kangaroo has much to offer tourists from North America, particularly during the northern winter.

Americans are to be lured southward of the equator to the sparkling summer beaches of Australia and the delights of Australia's unique Great Barrier Reef.

The Barrier Reef is the longest and most interesting of the coral reefs around Australia, extending from near the mouth of the Fly River (New Guinea) down the coast of Queensland to Breaksea Spit, a total distance of about 1,250 miles.

This reef is by far the largest of its kind in the world, the next in size being along the coast of New Caledonia.

In contradiction of its name the Great Barrier Reef is not a continuous unit of a single type, but is a composite and a collection of coral reefs and coral islands of various kinds forming a broad belt bordering the coast.

In its northern part it is relatively continuous, compact and narrow, being only 10 or 12 miles wide. South of Cairns, the outer boundary diverges from the coastline and near the southern end it is 200 miles out to sea.

The reef-edge is marked by a great line of breakers stretching as far as they eye can see, where the long rollers of the Pacific come suddenly into shallow water.

Princess Alexandra's visit to the islands of the Barrier Reef in 1959 gave a big boost to the tourist potential of the unusual area.

Overseas visitors now are assured a weekly steamer service between the West Coast of the United States and Australia.

A new overseas marine terminal has been built at Circular Quay, Sydney, especially to accommodate the new, 45,000-ton liners being put on to the North American service.

British shipping companies for the first time since pre-war days are making a bid for the wealthy tourist trade from the United States to all parts of the Pacific.

More than 84,000 tourists visited Australia last year and more than 100,000 are expected in 1961. It's estimated the value of overseas tourism this year will be nearly $145 million.

Counterfeiters Linked to Cop

Ex-Detective Faces
U.S. Court Hearing

CLEVELAND (AP)—Robert E. Walsh, a former Cleveland detective, received $64,000 of $80,000 in counterfeit bills turned out in a Youngstown home last year, a U. S. attorney charged in federal court Wednesday.

Burt W. Griffin, an assistant U. S. attorney, said Walsh, 33, teamed up with Hugh Lynn and Charles Gambelin in the counterfeiting operation. Griffin made the remarks in his opening statement in the trial of Walsh.

The case is being heard by U. S. District Judge James C. Connell without a jury.

A witness, Calvin D. Furlong, salesman at the Union Paper & Twine Co. here, identified Walsh as the man to whom he sold 5,000 sheets of bond paper last May.

Mrs. Marlene Schiffer, formerly a typist for the Addressograph-Multigraph Corp in Youngstown, identified Walsh as the man who ordered repairs on a multilith duplicating machine last spring.

The government contends the paper and the small press were used to turn out $20 bills at Lynn's home.

Lynn and Gambelin pleaded guilty to federal charges and are serving terms in federal prison at Milan, Mich.

Griffin said Lynn and Gambelin operated the printing and packaging phases of the operation and that $64,000 in phony bills was given by them to Walsh, operating under the name Marvin Hart.

Walsh, who lives in suburban Highland Heights, was on the Cleveland police force for six years until Nov. 21, 1956.

His attorney, James J. Carroll, said in his opening statement he would prove that Walsh had no connection with the counterfeiting gang. The attorney said he would show that Walsh was offered what he thought was a legitimate printing job at Lynn's place in Youngstown.

There Walsh saw "masses of counterfeit bills," Carroll said. Walsh tore up some of them, tipped over a printing press and knocked Lynn and Gambelin down before fleeing from the place, the attorney said.

3 University Chiefs Support Bill Providing State Subsidy

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Municipal universities are taking much of the load off state universities, but have about reached the limit as far as local tax resources are concerned, three campus administrators say.

The trio—Presidents Walter C. Langsam of the University of Cincinnati, Norman P. Auburn of the University of Akron, and William S. Carlson of the University of Toledo—appeared Wednesday night before the House Education Committee.

They are supporting a bill which would provide municipal universities with an annual state subsidy of $300 for each full-time freshman or sophomore student who is an Ohio resident. It also would provide $10 for each credit hour carried by part-time Ohio students in the first and second years.

Testimony Wednesday night indicated the cost, based on 1960-61 school year enrollment at the three municipal universities, would be about $2.75 million annually. A bill with essentially the same provisions failed in 1959.

The three presidents told the committee that the request for state financial aid definitely is not an attempt to shift the burden of support of the municipal campuses to the state. They said nearly one-third of the university students getting publicly supported higher education in Ohio are getting it from one of the three municipal universities, and added:

"Obviously it is more efficient to subsidize a school which already exists than to establish a new one."

A second hearing, at which opponents can be heard, was set for May 3.

A House-approved bill that would permit school districts to obtain approval of levies at special elections by a 55 per cent majority got the attention of the Senate Tax Committee. At present, unless the election is held in May of an even-numbered year, a 60 per cent approving vote is required.

T. G. O'Keefe of the Ohio Education Association told the committee that the Weathersfield county system in Trumbull County offers one example of the problem. Heavy losses in local revenue made it necessary to seek an additional levy, but the system failed to get the necessary 60 per cent approval Dec. 14, he said, and another vote this week fell 14 ballots short of the necessary 60 per cent.

As a result, he said, teachers for the last three paydays have been forced to borrow their salaries from the bank at 6 per cent interest.

Ralph Ely, superintendent of schools at Barberton, adjacent to Akron, and J. E. Brown, superintendent at Lancaster, both told the committee that their systems have levies scheduled for vote next month. Although the bill is an emergency measure, effective immediately if the Senate passes it and the governor signs, there was no immediate indication of districts with votes already scheduled—such as Barberton and Lancaster—would come under its provisions.

Earlier Wednesday, the Senate Judiciary Committee recommended passage of a bill authorizing the Ohio Historical Society to enter into a 99-year lease at a nominal rent with the Stark County Historical Society to erect a museum at McKinley Monument Park in Canton. The site must be approved by both.

Telephone Aide Cited for Heroism

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A cable splicer for the General Telephone Co. of Ohio was presented the Ohio Independent Telephone Association's seventh annual "Beyond the Call" award Wednesday for rescuing five persons from a submerged automobile.

The association said Willard Jenkins of Celina was directly responsible for saving the lives of the five persons trapped in the overturned automobile. The car ran off the road near Celina and crashed into Grand Lake on Aug. 12, 1960. It was in nearly 5½ feet of water with only part of its wheels showing above the water.

General Telephone Co. of Ohio, Marion, and Continental Telephone Co., Continental, received "community service" awards.

Intruder Seriously Hurt By Ravenna Woman, 67

RAVENNA, Ohio (AP)—A 67-year-old woman told Portage County sheriff's deputies she shot John Marteney, 30, when he tried to break into her apartment here. Marteney, of Ravenna, was listed in critical condition at Robinson Memorial Hospital after the shooting Wednesday night.

Deputies said Mrs. Pearl Livingston shot the man with a .32-caliber pistol. They quoted her as saying she fired three shots at Marteney when he tried to enter her apartment over her protests.

Liberties Union Eyes University

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Civil Liberties Union has been asked to investigate charges of alleged violations of civil liberties on the campus of Bowling Green State University.

This was disclosed Wednesday by Dr. R. Vance Fitzgerald of Toledo, president of the union.

Dr. Fitzgerald said he had met with "three representatives of the faculty who represented a larger group," but that he now is awaiting for further information and affidavits from those who had requested the investigation.

He declined to comment further or identify any of the faculty members making the request, but said he had been informed that there were two areas of alleged violations — (1) in faculty-administration relationships, and (2) possible incursions in civil liberties of students over the age of 21.

Who Will Pick Up UN Tab?

It was an appropriate phrase which an American delegate to the United Nations, Philip M. Klutznick, chose in speaking to the budget committee about the financial plight of the UN faces because of nonpayment of dues assessments of member nations. "Honorable states and men," he said, try to provide for payment of their bills.

There is at present a financial impasse in the UN which threatens the very life of the organization by shutting off its operating funds. The plight stems from the adamant refusal of the Soviet Union, France and a multitude of lesser nations to pay their assessed costs of the Congo operations.

Russia has invented one excuse after another for not paying its bills, in gleeful anticipation that what it does not pay will be met with United States funds. It has not paid its 1960 membership dues; it has never paid one penny toward the cost of maintaining a UN-supervised truce between the United Arab Republic and Israel and it now refuses to pay its share of the Congo costs.

There are no legitimate principles behind Soviet delinquencies. They are merely one more route the USSR has taken to drain U. S. resources in an economic war many Americans still have not recognized.

In any note of the financial responsibility of UN members it must also be remembered that the United States pays the lion's share to begin with. Among the larger nations, the following percentage assessments have been made for UN expenses:

United States, 32.51 per cent; Soviet Union, 13.62 per cent; Britain, 7.78 per cent, and France, 6.40 per cent. Many of the newer members pay the minimum rate of .04 per cent, amounting only to a few thousand dollars. Throughout the 15-year history of the United Nations, the U. S. has borne a disproportionate share of its costs. The UN has become a 100-member organization in which more than half the members are assessed minute amounts and pay even less.

Even the present 32.51 per cent assessment does not tell the full story of U. S. contributions to the continued existence of the UN. It does not include the millions of dollars paid to compensate for the rearranges of Russia and other members, nor advances made to the Congo fund — which very likely will become outright gifts.

On top of this, Klutznick offered the budget committee "a sizable voluntary contribution toward expenses over and above its assessed share" from the U. S. No doubt when Red China is voted in, the U. S. will be called upon to pay Peiping's dues too.

To Ease Tensions Stand on Head

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Harpo Marx has a simple cure for tension. "If the world is pressing in on you and everyone seems against you, go into a corner and stand on your head," he said.

"This will bring everyone around you to his senses — and give you a better view of things, too."

Harpo said he wasn't joking about this. It had worked for him for years.

The mute member of the mad-cap Marx brothers, famous for his harp, frizzled red wig, and honking cane, has broken a long public silence to write his autobiography.

It is "Harpo Speaks," abridged in McCall's magazine.

A recent visit here stirred Harpo to recollections of his poverty-stricken childhood in the Yorkville section of Manhattan. He was the smallest kid in the second grade, and whenever the teacher left the room, he recalled, the other boys in the class fell into the cheerful habit of picking him up and tossing him out the window.

"One day they threw me out, and I decided not to go back," he said. "That was the end of my formal education."

But it led to a 55-year show world career and stardom on both stage and screen. It also led to wealth and personal happiness with his wife, Susan Fleming, a former actress, and their four adopted children.

The zany character he portrays in pantomime bears little resemblance to the real-life Harpo. In person he is a gnomish little man, sensitive, kindly, quiet-mannered, and so soft-voiced you have to strain your ears to hear him.

"I'd rather listen than be on," he remarked. "It's a strange thing about most actors—they like to be on. But if you just listen, soon you find they all are trying to talk to you."

It was this quality that led Harpo a generation ago to become a wits who gathered nightly at the Algonquin Hotel's celebrated Round Table. He let Alexander Woollcott, Heywood Brown and Robert Benchley do the talking. He did the listening.

Harpo said the harp, which he plays by ear, had taught him the value of avoiding needless worry.

"When you have to handle 50 strings and seven pedals," he said, "you have more than enough on your mind. You don't have time to worry."

What is a hernia? Is it a rupture? Is it curable?

Hernia generally refers to a bulge through the natural corset of heavy muscles that hold in your abdomen. Under pressure abdominal organs push through a natural gap or rip through the corset itself. Most hernias bulge near the groin.

Before birth, sex glands grow inside the abdomen. A tunnel forms along the groin so that these glands can glide down in case the baby is a boy. This tunnel usually seals off before birth.

But sometimes this natural gap push down through the tunnel. In baby girls, the ovary may forgetfully glide down.

As aging abdominal muscles wear thin, the slightest strain may tear through the weakened fibers. Instead of the indirect path through the tunnel, organs can pour directly through the tear.

Your doctor can tell a direct from an indirect hernia. Even though the tunnel is open at birth, nothing may bulge through for years.

Complications arise when the tight muscular corset cuts off the circulation to the hernia and strangles it, or when the hernia becomes stuck outside the abdomen.

Strangling and re-entry problems demand emergency surgery. How much simpler to operate ahead of time! Even babies tolerate this surgery!

Like a tailor, the surgeon sews the gap in the corset but surgical tailoring doesn't work when stitches pull through aging muscles weaker than overbleached cloth.

Metal disks attached to a specially designed brace can reinforce the weak spot, but such a truss is cumbersome.

Modern surgeons sometimes patch the area with tough ligaments borrowed from other parts.

And now from France, the fashion center of the world, comes a new style in hernia surgery — reinforced patches of sheer nylon!

A Conclusion Already Reached

By George Sokolsky

The most amazing document ever issued by the State Department is the White Paper on Cuba. It cannot be read without assuming that the United States is apologetic, in some manner, for the misconduct of Castro. Here is the opening statement:

"... The hemisphere rejoiced at the overthrow of the Batista tyranny, looked with sympathy on the new regime, and welcomed its promises of political freedom and social justice for the Cuban people. The challenge results from the fact that the leaders of the revolutionary regime betrayed their own revolution, delivered that revolution into the hands of powers alien to the hemisphere, and transformed it into an instrument employed with calculated effect to suppress the rekindled hopes of the Cuban people for democracy and to intervene in the internal affairs of other American Republics."

In the first place, the hemisphere — meaning North and South America — did not devote itself to the overthrow of Batista. The subject was hardly important to most human beings. Besides, economically 1957 was Cuba's best year. There is a sectarian group in the State Department which believes that Rightist dictators are evil and Leftist dictators are good. Thus, Stalin was good; Hitler was bad. Thus, Batista was evil and Castro was good; Trujillo is bad, and so it goes. These doctrinaire Fourth Floor deckmen in the State Department disregard history in their desire to establish a world of good men, dictators who call themselves democrats or democrats who are dictators.

The White Paper states: "It is the considered judgement of the Government of the United States of America that the Castro regime in Cuba offers a clear and present danger to the authentic and autonomous revolution of the Americas — to the whole hope of spreading political liberty, economic development, and social progress through all the republics of the hemisphere."

This is a new use of the term, Government of the United States. "A considered judgement" of the Government of the United States could be a joint resolution of Congress.

Surely at no time has the Congress of the United States or the President in a formal message to Congress referred to the "authentic and autonomous revolution of the Americas."

Precisely what is this revolution? What have the United States and Canada, for instance, to do with this authentic and autonomous revolution?

Surely it is not true, as the White Paper states: "When word arrived from the Sierra Maestra of the revolutionary movement headed by Dr. Fidel Castro Ruz, the people of the hemisphere watched its progress with feeling and with hope..."

Who in the Northern part of the hemisphere watched Castro's butchery with "feeling and hope"? From the start, many Americans looked upon it with loathing. What is the White Paper attempting to do — to give the impression that the hope of this country was centered on Castro? Are the authors of this document trying to justify the aid given to Castro by the State Department? Were the men who wrote the White Paper responsible for the support Fidel Castro received from those in the State Department?

In later pages, the White Paper changes its tone and tells what a treacherous devil Castro is. It describes the Communist take-over. However, even so, Castro is the poor little darling who is seduced. Note:

"... When Castro first went to the hills, the Cuban Communist Party dismissed him as 'bourgeois' and 'putschist.' Only when they saw that he had a chance of winning did they try to take over his movement."

It has not been unusual for the Communists to give the appearance of opposing one whom they support. It is also true that Soviet Russia has often found local Communists to be nuisances and have acted without their knowledge, whipping them into line when the proper time came. Finally, on page 19, the pamphlet reaches "The Delivery of the Revolution to the Sino-Soviet Bloc." It took a long time to get there in a small paper of 36 pages.

It is unfortunate that the White Paper on Cuba prepared and issued by the State Department labors so hard to reach a conclusion which newspaper readers have already accepted. You can buy the White Paper from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington 25, D. C. It costs 20 cents and is worth that much.

U. S. officials said the number of such advisers will not exceed 300. They said the action was taken at the request of the Laos government.

The United States has fully backed Britain's efforts to obtain the Soviet Union's agreement to issue a call for a cease-fire in Laos within 24 hours.

The Soviet Union so far has avoided fixing a specific time for a cease-fire. U. S. officials consider that the Soviet strategy may be an effort to string out the fighting until only a few hours before an international conference is seated to discuss the future of a neutral, independent Laos.

U. S. authorities were more concerned over the military situation in Laos than by the decision of former Premier Souvanna Phouma to skip Washington on his world tour.

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

AP Business News Analyst NEW YORK (AP)—For stockholders of more than half the companies reporting earnings, first-quarter results are disappointing. Earnings are averaging 6 per cent below the first three months of 1960. And the decline may be more than that when all the tallies are in.

There are many brilliant exceptions—companies reporting record sales and profits. And the guessing is that the April-June quarter will see earnings making a much basis of actual returns or of comparison with year-ago figures.

Of the first 175 companies to report, 95 show declines from their net income in January-March 1960. This year 21 report a net loss, against 10 a year ago. The combined earnings come to $796,620,000 off 6.3 per cent from the $851,005,000 the same firms made in the 1960 first quarter.

But there's a joker in those figures. That is American Telephone & Telegraph, whose record 1961 first quarter profit of $304 million is 7.3 per cent better than a year ago. Disregard giant AT&T and the remaining 174 have earnings of $492,602,000 or down 13.2 per cent from the previous year.

Rarely have the variations in the returns been so wide. International Business Machines reports a gain of 38.7 per cent. General Electric is off 20 per cent. Du Pont down 11.7 per cent, and Celanese behind by 36 per cent.

Often specific conditions affect individual companies within the same industry. Goodrich trails 1960 by 36.5 per cent and U.S. Rubber and General Tire also report declines but Firestone has an increase.

Deere & Co. looks better this year than last, while International Harvester profits are sharply lower. Scott Paper is in the plus column, while West Virginia Pulp & Paper and Rayonier are in the minus.

Safeway and National Tea are ahead of a year ago, but the Kroger grocery chain is behind. In the drug field, Pfizer is up; Parke, Davis down.

Sometimes industry patterns prevail. Many other chemicals are off along with Du Pont—Allied Chemical, American Cyanamid, Dow Monsanto, Rohm & Haas, J. P. Stevens and some other textiles are down.

Most utilities maintain their fairly regular year-to-year gains. Rails are badly hit. Steels had a bad production quarter compared with early 1960 when output was still mostly booming, and steel stockholders are prepared for the sobering news.

Many of the companies reporting so far have first quarters ending before the calendar cutoff of March 31. And a majority of companies are still to report.

But if the trend of 6 per cent or more down from early 1960 continues, it will compare with a gain of 5.5 per cent in the 1960 first quarter over the 1959 one, which itself was up a whopping 54 per cent from the opening months of depressed 1958.

New Civil Rights Panel Is Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill to create a permanent Civil Rights Commission was ready for introduction in the House today with claimed administration backing. President Kennedy also picked two new members for the existing commission, now due to expire in November.

Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., of the House Judiciary Committee, sponsor of the new bill, said he had prepared it after consultations with the administration.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger, who announced the new appointments, was asked if the move meant Kennedy will request extension of the commission's life. He said he had no personal knowledge but thought that was probably true.

The new selections are law school deans—Erwin M. Griswold of Harvard University and Spotswood Robinson III of Howard University.

They succeed Dr. George M. Johnson and former Gov. Doyle E. Carlton of Florida, who have resigned.

It was reported Tuesday that the commission was releasing its seven investigators May 1 as part of a process of winding up its affairs after four years of investigating alleged racial discrimination in voting and other matters.

Celler said his bill would continue the commission "pretty much along its present lines." He said there is a real need for such a commission.

Firm Shelves Plan To Move from Ohio

CLEVELAND (AP)—Eaton Manufacturing Co. today delayed moving its Reliance Division in Massillon south by signing a one-year contract with the Allied Industrial Workers of America.

A company announcement said the contract signed with Locals 28 and 306, will run through April 19, 1962.

It said the union agreed to a 16-cent-an-hour reduction in fringe benefits in lieu of a 16-cent-an-hour cut in basic hourly rates. The union also approved such contract changes as increased prearrangement had submitted earlier the statement said.

Last week Eaton said it would move the Massillon plants to North Carolina because the firm could not maintain a competitive position under present wage scales.

Teacher Contract Opinion Is Given

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The attorney general ruled Wednesday that a board of education may discontinue at any time additional duties given a teacher under his contract.

Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy's opinion went to Robert E. Dunlap, prosecuting attorney of Logan County. He had asked if the board, which employed a teacher under a two-year contract, could discontinue the additional duties and salary therefore given the teacher under the contract. He said they were paying a teacher $5,100, and wished to discontinue the addition payment of $1,000 for duties in the athletic department.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Still the biggest mystery in the four-day old invasion of Cuba is this: Just what role, if any, did the United States play in the invasion?

President Kennedy has said this country would not intervene militarily in Cuba. But exactly six months ago today he promised help, if elected president, to Cubans who gave hope of overthrowing Fidel Castro.

And today, exactly three months after he became President, the invasion is under way.

Cuban Foreign Minister Dr. Raul Roa said Monday in the United Nations the invaders were a "force of mercenaries organized, financed and armed by the government of the United States."

On Tuesday Premier Khrushchev in a message to Kennedy said, "It is no secret to anyone that the armed bands which invaded that country (Cuba) had been trained, equipped and armed in the United States."

At his news conference a week ago—before the invasion—Kennedy was asked how far this country would be willing to go in helping an anti-Castro uprising or invasion of Cuba.

He never directly answered the question. Instead, he said "there will not be under any conditions an intervention in Cuba by the United States armed forces."

The question asked was how far this country would go in helping an anti-Castro uprising or invasion. The United States could do a lot to help an invasion without using its own armed forces.

In answering Khrushchev, Kennedy again did not say this country had not helped the invaders. What he did say was this: "I have previously stated and I repeat now that the United States intends no military intervention in Cuba."

During the presidential campaign last fall Kennedy made a number of talks on dealings with Latin America.

On Oct. 20 he issued a statement—not a speech—on how he'd deal with Castro if he won the presidency. In part he blamed the

State Shuns Bid To Use Lake Water

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Department of Natural Resources refused a request by the village of Wellington in Lorain County to withdraw water from the lake in Findley State Park has been approved by the Natural Resources Commission.

Herbert B. Eagon, department director, said the village request had been denied after a survey by the divisions of parks and water. The village gets its water from a creek and it is pumped into two reservoirs. A shortage in supply was experienced last fall. Current usage is 350,000 gallons daily.

It was decided that the use of water from Findley Lake would result in lowering the normal pool level to such an extent that park users would be affected seriously.

Sphere of Progress

By FRANK KUCHIRCHUK Central Press Writer

"I HAVE a bad heart condition," said the letter writer, "and very often have difficulty breathing and this is where I find the oxygen sphere very handy."

This is just one of the many thousand letters sent by enthusiastic users of a relatively new method of administering oxygen to those who suddenly are out of breath or become unconscious.

Victims of heart or any bronchial condition, such as asthma, especially have found this portable oxygen supply handy. So have doctors, first aiders and physical education leaders. It is a grapefruit-sized metal sphere holding 21 gallons of medically pure oxygen. This hour supply is always ready, weighs about two pounds and costs $27.00.

Called the Breath-O-Life, it is pressed against the face and automatically "puffs" a breath of pure oxygen. The oxygen stops flowing as soon as facial contact is lost. There are no dials or gadgets, it is safe to handle, and once empty, the sphere is disposable and replaceable.

For this, the piano accompaniment was augmented by violin. German lieder was represented on the program by songs by Franz, Schumann and Schubert.

The second half of the program was made up largely of songs by contemporary composers. Miss Wittich sang selections from "Twelve Poems of Emily Dickinson" in settings by Aaron Copland.

These included: "Nature, the Gentlest Mother"; "Going to Heaven"; "The World Feels Dusty"; "Why Do They Shut Me out of Heaven?"; "Heart, We Will Forget Him"; and "There Came a Wind like a Bugle".

"Silence Spoke with your Voice" was next. This composition was written by Robert Prahm, a student at Capital, and won the 1960 Creative Arts Competition at Capital.

Following the program, a reception was held in the parish hall of the Presbyterian Church.

The program opened with a group of Italian songs of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries, by Sarri, Scarlatti, Cesti and Strozzi. A Bach aria from Cantata 94 for the Ninth Sunday after Trinity was next sung by Miss Wittich.

For this, the piano accompaniment was augmented by violin. German lieder was represented on the program by songs by Franz, Schumann and Schubert.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

It's Not the Rope that Counts!

DEAR ABBY: Why are parents so indifferent about what time their teen-agers come in at night? I've turned a deaf ear to our 17-year-old daughter's plea that no one else has to be in by 11 P. M. This rule is for movie dates, and does not apply to dances or parties.

Recently other couples have come home with her from the movies, and they stay until all hours. My wife says, "At least we know where they are." I sent them home at 2:30 a. m. and now our daughter is furious with me. Do parents sleep peacefully trusting that Sonny and Sissy will be home for breakfast? I say, give them enough rope and they'll hang themselves. What is your opinion?

OLD FOGGY

DEAR OLD FOGGY: I think teen-agers should "be in" at a decent hour in order to get enough rest and sleep. I am not so worried about their "hanging themselves". If you have raised them right, you need not worry. If you haven't, they can "hang themselves" before the sun goes down on a Sunday afternoon.

DEAR ABBY: There is a man who belongs to our club who is giving me a pain in the neck. Just because I am a widow (50) and he is a widower (72), he thinks it is a real treat for me to dance with him. So, every time he spots me he asks me to dance. He is more interested in putting on a performance than anything else. He pumps your arm up and down like an old-fashioned pump handle, takes great, long steps, and goes fast and furiously, trying to cover as much territory as possible. He simply wears me out. He is nice to talk to, but I wish I could get out of dancing with him. Have you any suggestions?

EXHAUSTED

DEAR EXHAUSTED: This might seem corny, but tell him you have a corn.

DEAR ABBY: My husband wants me to get a job, and right now! Our baby was two this month. I want to be home with our child until she goes to school, but my husband thinks I am just lazy. He says we can hire someone to look after the child. I think that is MY privilege. The wives of many of our friends work and my husband says we will never have what the Joneses have because he is pulling the load alone.

I would rather have fewer material things and be home to raise my family, but he doesn't see it that way.

Tell me, am I old-fashioned and lazy to feel this way? I am so tired of his nagging, if you say so, I will go out and get a job.

NAGGED

DEAR NAGGED: YOU HAVE a job, and it is a very coveted.

Visiting Farmer From Wales Eyes Daffodil Planting

APPRENTICE FARMER AND DAFFODILS — Glyn Eckley, Garthbrenny, Wales, an apprentice farmer who is spending 10 months on the Defenbaugh farm near Laurelville, talks with Mrs. Reginald Blue about daffodils. Mrs. Blue is holding a species daffodil, Lobularis, which she says was used by English clergymen as a parent daffodil when they first started work on daffodil hybridizing. Eckley is holding a specimen of Bonythone, a fine exhibition hybrid.

By MRS. ELIZABETH JONES
Glyn Eckley comes from a country where the national flower is the daffodil.

Eckley is a guest in Pickaway County.

The 24-year-old Welshman will spend 20 months on the William Defenbaugh farm, Route 1, Laurelville, as an apprentice farmer.

The National Farm Bureau is sponsoring many such apprentice farmers from different countries.

Eckley, who hails from Talwern Fawr, Garthbrenny, Wales, is accustomed to seeing daffodils in drifts along the lanes, in the woods, along the banks of streams, in the meadows and pastures and even in the fields.

HE is just not to say positive that they're all wild. Perhaps somebody did plant them a long time ago.

But the personable young farmer must miss them here, for he said to his hosts, "Where are the flowers?"

So the garden editor felt obligated to show young Eckley some quality daffodils grown by Mrs. Reginald Blue near Frankfort.

Mrs. Blue, a member of the American Daffodil Society, belongs to the Pickaway Garden Club. She raises and exhibits daffodils. She has over 70 varieties of named narcissi.

On the way to the Blue farm Eckley spoke of the stone fences of his native land. He said his own family farm was more than 200 acres and that cattle and sheep were raised there. He puts in 15 hours a day working on the farm.

Incidentally, Eckley was grinding and hauling feed for the Defenbaugh's 200 head of cattle when he was torn away from his chores by Mrs. Defenbaugh and the garden editor for the trip to the Blues.

The Blue home is surrounded by a wooded area with space aplenty for Mrs. Blue's 70 varieties.

Mrs. Blue told us that she has already had three weeks of bloom and expects that many more. She says that one of these days she plans to plant all the early varieties together, the mid-season varieties together and the late blooming kinds in one bed. This will make for a better display, she feels.

Mrs. Blue had small drifts of daffodils in the woods across the road from the house. There were also groups at the lower end of her hillside yard. Daffodils were blooming in the plant borders of both the back and front brick patios of the beautiful old farm home.

Mrs. Blue had gathered a few of her exhibition blooms for Eckley to see. She had two large trumpet varieties, Mulatto, a selfcolor and Bonythone, a bicolor. She had Norvik, a fine yellow with a short red cup.

Norvik had won a ribbon for Mrs. Blue last year at a daffodil show. This year Norvik's cup is a much deeper red due to weather conditions.

Mrs. Blue had also picked a specimen bloom of Fortune, another yellow variety with an orange cup. She had one white variety, Mt. Hood.

SHE showed Eckley one of her favorite tazettas, or multiple flowered daffodils. This variety, Cragford, was white with a scarlet cup. Mrs. Blue said that Cragford forces well, but is perfectly hardy. From the Blue's patio one may look down on the feed lot where the herefords are kept. Young

Rock Garden Book Ready

New Issue To Aid
Beginners, Experts

Almost no other form of garden design requires more forethought and skill than making a rock garden.

To aid beginners, and guide experts too, the Brooklyn Botanic Garden has just released a revised issue of its "Handbook on Rock Gardens", edited to cover the subject of rock gardening in the broadest sense, and illustrated with over 130 halftone reproductions and line drawings.

Whether rocks are used in steps, walls, walks, around pools, as bank covers or in a rock garden, they have great charm and appeal in the home landscape. Few homesites, however, are blessed with natural ledges or rocky outcrops which fit perfectly into place. In most cases, rocks suited to the site must be introduced, or existing rocks rearranged in a tasteful manner.

Fifteen authorities have written separate articles in which many popular topics are covered, such as choosing the proper location for a rock garden, fitting it into the landscape, designing the garden to suit the environment, selecting and placing the rocks and providing proper growing conditions for the plants.

COMPLETE instructions are given for building wall gardens, and the use of walls in numerous ways around the home grounds. Emphasis is placed on selecting and laying the rocks, providing drainage for the wall, preparing the soil, and setting the plants. Suitable wall plants are listed by color.

In a section titled, "Rock Garden Clinic" are found the answers to 56 popular questions often asked by rock gardeners.

A large part of this 96-page handbook is devoted to plants suited to many different situations and their culture. The descriptive list of 60 rock plants recommended for beginners is especially useful. Favorites here are moss-pinks, rock-roses, shrubby candytufts, pinks, houseleeks, speedwells, stonecrops and thymes.

Groups treated separately include alpine bellflowers, shrubs, herbs, alpine from the Rocky Mountains, and northeastern plants for the shady rock garden.

The cultural needs of each plant group are thoroughly defined, and extensive information about each individual plant is given. Scores of plants are illustrated so that identification is easy.

Complete step-by-step instructions are provided for growing rock garden plants from seeds and cuttings, supplemented by lists of kinds to try.

Publication of this Handbook now, when there is a resurging interest in the use of rocks in home landscape design, is most timely. Single copies of this handsomely printed paper-cover edition are available by mail for one dollar from the Brooklyn Botanic Garden, Brooklyn 25, N. Y.

Grower Tells How To Raise Fine Dahlias from Seeds

Editor's Note: C. H. Bowen, Chillicothe dahlia fancier, told where to order dahlia seeds in last week's garden page. This week he tells how to raise dahlias from seeds.

By C. H. BOWEN
I plant the seeds in flats that are three to four inches deep. My flats have aluminum bottoms that are pricked with small holes for drainage. I use vermiculite as a planting medium and never have "damping off" troubles.

I fill my flats to within one inch of the top with vermiculite. I plant my seeds in rows about two inches apart. Unless you plant to transplant to pots, the seeds should be about an inch and one half apart in the rows.

Then soak the flat in lukewarm water. Sometimes I punch holes in a newspaper, cover the flat with it and pour the warm water over the newspaper. Sometimes I place the flat in a vessel of water. I cover the flat with paper or cloth until the seeds begin to germinate (less than a week sometimes). Then I give the plants plenty of light.

I cover my plants with a hot-bed sash, then with cheese cloth as they grow taller. A week before setting out I remove the cover to sun harden them.

AS vermiculite has no plant-food, you will have to supply it. I use a soluble plantfood in water about every week or ten days. Use any soluble plantfood recommended for leaf feeding.

When taking plants from the flats I allow the vermiculite to cling to the roots.

I set dahlia stakes out about three feet apart, then place a plant on either side of the stake. I am careful not to press the earth down around the plant and destroy the tender roots. Instead, give the roots plenty of room. I place the plants in their holes then water with soluble plantfood and draw loose dirt over the roots to within about one inch of the ground level.

I shade with milk cartons that have had their ends cut off, using one half a carton to a plant. I press the carton down into the soil so that the wind cannot blow it away.

Remove the suckers near the base of the plant. Keep the plants cultivated, using shallow cultivation.

About the first of August scatter a low nitrogen fertilizer (3-12-12) between the rows.

MULCH after you have applied the fertilizer if you choose. Do not use a commercial fertilizer too near the roots.

Frequently seedling plants will give flowers that have an open center. These may be very beautiful, but they will never pass the scoring test required by the American Dahlia Society.

However, many outstanding varieties have come from seedlings that are grown in this fashion.

Ross Clubs Plan Joint Flower Show

The Orchard Hill Garden Club and Frankfort Garden Club will present a flower show on April 29 from 3 to 8 p.m. at the Frankfort Elementary School. The general public is invited.

Theme of the show is "Sing a Song of Springtime." There will be classes, six for arrangements and six for specimen flowers.

There will be an educational division and an invitational division for artistic arrangements.

The Frankfort Elementary school will afford adequate parking facilities.

THERE is an interesting list of door prizes. Winners need not be present to receive awards.

Prizes include glad bulbs from Howard Ulrig, glad fancier; a book, "Roses - Growing and Exhibiting" by Arthur Harold Allen, gardening supplies by Mrs. Charles Orr; six pom pom dahlia tubers by C. H. Bowen; and one tuber of Son of Volunteer originated by Bowen and introduced in 1958 by Albert Parella of New York City.

This was the only Class A dahlia in Ohio that year to win the Award of Merit of the American Dahlia Society.

A plant sale will be held in connection with the show.

Feed Grass, Reset Mower

This is the time of year the wise homeowner will give his grass a feeding of a good lawn food.

Such a feeding at this season is excellent insurance against weeds and against the effects of the hot sun in the months ahead.

If you will give your lawn a pickup application right now, following feeding instructions printed on the bag, you will restore the nutrient supply which has been exhausted.

Lawn owners will be surprised by the dramatic improvement in the appearance of their grass which will occur almost immediately, says E. L. Thomas of Vigoro research laboratories.

"BESIDES bringing back its sparkle, a feeding right now offers another important advantage. It will thicken the top growth, encourage wide lateral growth of root systems, and help crowd out pestiferous weeds," he says.

Weed seedlings find it tough to get started in a healthy, vigorously growing lawn.

Another important bit of advice which the amateur lawn tender should take to heart was given by Thomas.

"Don't scalp your lawn." It is generally best to reset the height of your mower blade as soon as the first heavy growth has passed.

"Set your mower at two inches or 2½ inches and keep the adjustment there most of the year. This cut will in all probability be higher than the adjustment you have been using. Only during the early period of flush spring growth is a cut of one inch to 1½ inches recommended."

Mitchell Wins Jersey GOP Primary Poll

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—James P. Mitchell, newly nominated Republican candidate for governor of New Jersey, said he will call on some old friends from the Eisenhower administration to boost his coming campaign.

Mitchell, former labor secretary, beat out two rivals in the Republican primary election Tuesday. In a victory statement he said he had promises of aid from former President Dwight D. Eisenhower; former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, and New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Richard J. Hughes, 51, a former judge who won the Democratic nomination with only token opposition, said that if Mitchell brings in national figures, he will consider calling on help from President Kennedy.

Returns from 4,379 of 4,394 districts in the primary election gave Mitchell 199,457 votes, State Sen. Walter H. Jones 156,933 and State Sen. Wayne Dumont Jr., 94,617.

Mitchell's victory over the veteran state legislators installed a new leadership at the head of New Jersey's Republican party, with Sen. Clifford P. Case, a liberal Republican, in command.

Arrangers Workshop To Be in Chillicothe

The Ross County Federation of Garden Clubs will hold workshops on April 17 and 24 and May 8.

The general public is invited to attend the workshops which will be presented at St. Paul's Episcopal Parish House on Main St. in Chillicothe. Arrangers are to meet at 10 a.m. and bring a sack lunch. Coffee will be provided by a committee.

Garden Gossip

According to my encyclopedia, "The scenery of Wales, both vale and mountain, is celebrated for its beauty. Travelers even assert that Welsh scenery is the most beautiful in the world."

The young Welshman visiting at William Defenbaugh's says there are myriads of daffodils growing in a semi-wild state there.

So I'm putting April-in-Wales on my places - to - see - when - my - ship - comes - in list.

Dr. J. Arthur Herrick, Kent State University, Nature Conservancy man, met a local naturalist, Donald McBeth, for the first time. McBeth showed him some setyrax, a plant he had never before seen. Dr. Herrick was delighted and so, I suppose, was Donald McBeth. McBeth lives near Kings-ton.

THE Wheaton Club is composed of all the high and mighty in the nature world. Mrs. Kirby Drake showed me a plant that her brother, Floyd Bartley, had been given at the Wheaton Club. It was called streptocarpus and belongs to the African violet family. It had big leaves and trumpet shaped lavender flowers. A member of the club presented a plant to everybody in the club.

When the Eugene Hansons went to Arizona this winter, Pauline was smitten with a red berried shrub. She wrote it was the loveliest thing she had ever seen. It turned out to be the red berried pyrocantha which is so popular in the south. Just like our own orange pyrocantha except the berries are Christmas red.

Red berried pyrocantha has never been reliably hardy up here. There are two Ohio nurseries that have the red berries variety. On is Rocknoll nursery at Morrow. The other is Wayside Gardens at Mentor.

The Cliff Hedges had a beautiful tulip planting under their back window to the north. The tulips were early. All red and white varieties!

Jim Shea, Route 4, Circleville, had a struggle with the rabbits this winter. They succeeded in just about skinning his young ornamental crabs. Ann Shea said the trees were wrapped but that the snows were so deep the rabbits stood on top of the snow and nibbled at the bark above the wrapping.

The garden editor is a great believer in having "a lot of something". With the Karl Masons it's a lot of forsythia. The Masons live at 302 Watt St.

THE Carl Leists have a charming specimen of a weeping Japanese Cherry. They also had a variety of blooming spring bulbs when I passed the other day. Included were hyacinths, daffodils and tulips.

The Ed Wallaces have the oldest weeping cherry in town. It leans over Hargus Creek and is in bloom now. Several winters ago it was severely damaged by the cold. In fact some very important limbs were killed. But there it is now, almost as beautiful as ever.

We went past the house where Helen and Loring Hoffman lived for so long in Saltcreek Twp.

They had planted Japonica along their fence and the bushes are huge thriving specimens now. Very lovely!

Sometimes I think I am a sort of hypochondriac bird watcher. Every time I hear of somebody that has seen an unusual bird, next thing I know I think I've seen it, too.

I heard about a blue heron then I thought I saw it. I read about the sea gulls in The Circleville Herald.

Last Monday I gave a yelp that really brought the family running. They said they thought I'd been caught in a bear trap. Actually, I had seen two sea gulls flapping over our pond. The whole family saw them, so it was not just my imagination.

MABEL Stout of Whisler saw a gorgeous white bird. When she first saw it it was in the water at Gene Parker's pond. It had caught either a fish or a frog. Then it took flight and its wing spread was at least 30 inches. It was pure white but had a bar of red across its bill.

Mabel says she almost got a picture of it. She thinks it was a white Ibis, the kind they have in Florida. Gene Parker also saw it at the same moment.

I craned my neck when I was in the vicinity of Georgia Hott's the other day on my way to Columbus. And sure enough I saw clumps of daffodils. Mrs. Hott, who lives in Ashville, is one of those gardeners who manages to have continuous bloom in her garden.

Pickaway Garden Club had a fine crop of young husbands at their dinner meeting the other evening. More husbands come each year. This dinner for husbands is an annual event started by Sadie Lyle and her husband years ago. The dinner was a l w a s held at the Lyle home on W. Mound Street.

Mrs. Leslie Dearth and Mrs. Nell Morris, both members of the Logan Elm Garden Club, have a joint project that is sure to prove interesting. They are raising fragrant leafed geraniums from seed. Mrs. Dearth planted hers in a ham can. Her seed have already germinated.

Mrs. Morris is watching hers very closely, hoping any day that they'll sprout. The seed cost 50 cents for 12. At that price we think the geraniums ought to have very fragrant leaves indeed.

THE Doyle Painters have a seedling plum tree that has never blossomed. George Hamrick told them that it might never bloom. This is the case with hybrids quite often. That's why hybrid corn growers never try to save their own seed. The Painters live on Lynwood Ave.

Gitmo Bay Watchful in Cuban Revolt

GUANTANAMO—BAY, Cuba (AP)—This big U.S. naval base on the eastern tip of Cuba is on a watchful, round-the-clock alert, but for the most part the fighting going on beyond the fence might as well be on another continent. All is quiet in the immediate vicinity. The usual peace of the base is marred only by a slight increase in tension because of the stepped-up precautions and the lack of news of the invasion by anti-Castro rebels. Rear Adm. E. J. O'Donnell, base commander, said in an interview that his operations office is operating around-the-clock; that a constant radar watch is being maintained and that fighters on the runways are ready to scramble skyward in less than five minutes. O'Donnell said he also has on call 10 or 11 destroyers that can pump out 5-inch shells at the rate of one a second from twin mounts. "We have an enormous amount of firepower here," the admiral said. While he did not say how close to this base the destroyers are roaming—they are obviously not in the harbor—he left no doubt they are close. O'Donnell emphatically denied Cuban charges that some of the rebel invaders had come from this base.

Mrs. Lowell Cooper, suffered a broken ankle in a fall at school this past week. David, a junior, was able to return to school Monday.

Also, a member of the junior class, Judy Moss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moss, is confined to her home with a blood disease.

The Girl Scout Mother and Daughter Tea was well attended Thursday evening in the Ashville Methodist Church. Mrs. Peg Tribble introduced Carolyn Stickle,

It was decided by the group to hold Day Camp for two weeks this summer in the Community Park. Tentative dates were set for the last two weeks of June.

The mothers were served cookies, punch and mints by their daughters from a decorated tea table.

Highway Fund Bill Passes Ohio Senate

Counties stand to gain about $10.5 million, cities and villages $3.7 million and townships $750,000 more if the bill survives the expected veto. A compromise attempt, which would have given local governments additional funds from other sources, and a bill to provide the money by hiking automobile license fees $2.50, died in committee.

The original House vote on the measure was 109-25 and, with an 82-55 GOP majority, overriding a veto (84 votes needed) is not expected to be a problem on that side in this case.

Two more bills were introduced in the Senate, which also approved bills to ease some requirements on foreign building and loan associations doing business in Ohio and to return some proceeds of pari-mutuel taxes to benefit commercial horse racing tracks and encourage thoroughbred breeding.

Legislators were visited during the day Wednesday by Miss Alice Ann McClain of Marion, Miss Ohio of 1961, who was attending a telephone company convention.

In a 96-37 decision, the House revised the small loan act, raising the amount small loan firms can lend from $1,000 to $2,000. The measure goes to the Senate as does a bill to ban discrimination in public places like restaurants, which was approved 125-2. The latter measure would prohibit discrimination because of color, race, creed or national origin, and would be enforced by the Civil Rights Commission created in 1959. In effect, it puts teeth in an ineffective antidiscrimination law long on the books.

The House also completed passage of a Senate-approved bill that repeals a complicated section of law passed in 1949. Backers said the section is outdated in view of present federal standards for the urban renewal program, and that bonding officials declined to help noncharter cities finance such projects until the matter was cleared up.

It originated with Canton, where efforts to proceed with urban renewal were said to be blocked by the statutes. Campbell and Athens also were said to be immediate beneficiaries of the act which—under an emergency clause—becomes effective as soon as the governor signs it.

The day's heaviest opposition in the House was reserved for a bill permitting a registered apprentice barber three opportunities to pass an examination. At present, anyone failing the exam must complete a minimum of 500 additional hours of study within three months before taking it again.

The bill finally passed, 78-50, with nine votes to spare. Rep. G. D. Tablack, D-Mahoning, sponsor, blamed opposition on what he called some "greedy barber colleges who want to gouge students."

Representatives also voted to authorize general health district boards to require vaccination of dogs. Like the other House bills considered, it goes to the Senate for further consideration.

If the money were available, the Ohio Highway Department would like to spend $1.5 billion on various road projects between now and June 30, 1965. Director Everett S. Preston says.

He told the House Highways Committee Wednesday night that there is $567.7 million worth of work in Priority One projects, for example, which the department would like to see in progress by June 30, 1962.

G. A. (Jim) Berry, Preston's first assistant, noted that this is deliberate overplanning "because some projects drop by the wayside."

Including some projects for advanced planning beyond mid-1965, the department plan—if everything could be carried out—would cost more than $2.25 billion.

Overall, it would include 513 miles of interstate highways, 609 miles of non-interstate divided highways, 503 miles of bridge re-

More People Use Library Services

More persons are making use of the Pickaway County Library and Bookmobile according to a recent report from Mrs. Enid Denham, librarian.

Circulation hit a new high for the month of February with a total of 7,099 volumes. This figure is an increase of 610 over the same period in 1959.

Mrs. Denham, at the March meeting of the County Library Board, reported that the main library circulation increased 7½ per cent in 1960 over 1959.

She said the county bookmobile service issued 4,792 adult and 51,238 juvenile books for a total of 56,030, making a grand total from both departments of 123,234 circulated for 1960.

THE librarian stated that the Science Fair, recently held in the schools, had an added impetus to reference work at the library this year.

Of the 3,488 books added to the library in 1960, 1,505 were adult and 1,983 juvenile. Other activity completed during the year includes 9,566 catalog cards typed and filed; 432 books rebound and 951 repaired by members of the library staff.

Total city registration increased 26 per cent with 844 new members.

Several improvements were made at the library. The magazine room was rearranged. Magazines used currently were listed and these lists placed in the magazine room, in the reading room on the table containing the guides to periodical literature, and at the main desk.

New lights have been installed over the most recently added stacks in the adult fiction section, and two new lights installed in the high school area. A set of 12 storm windows were installed. These two projects were authorized by the County Commissioners. Two new cases were added to shelf books in the children's room, and a new five-drawer section added to the shelflist catalog.

Staff of the Pickaway County Library includes Mrs. Enid Denham, librarian and clerk of the board; Mrs. Lister Wolford and Miss Jessie Cummings, assistant librarians; Miss Dorothy Smedley, bookmobile librarian; Mrs. Vernon Weiler, assistant; Miss Vera Grubbs, county book mender; Mrs. Jack Miller, shelver; Mrs. Ralph Arney, bookmobile assistant; Paul Hill, janitor; and Weldon Owens, bookmobile driver.

Trucker, 50 Hogs Die In Turnpike Accident

FREMONT, Ohio (AP)—An Indiana truck driver was killed early today in a collision on the Ohio Turnpike just east of the Fremont interchange. He was Howard Acheson, 24, of Rt. 2, Delphi, Ind.

Officers said his truck crashed into the rear of a turnpike wrecker which was patrolling the toll road and overturned. About 50 hogs in the truck also were killed. More than 100 other swine which spilled out were rounded up by police.

Ex-Executive Convicted Of Federal Tax Dodge

CINCINNATI (AP)—A federal court jury has convicted Ernst L. Myers of Cincinnati, once assistant purchasing agent for an Allis-Chalmers Mfg. Co. plant in nearby Norwood, of income tax evasion.

The verdict came Wednesday after testimony indicated Myers took a total of $10,000 as kickbacks on sale of scrap copper in 1954-1955, but failed to report it as income. Myers contended the money from George Primus, president of Industrial Components Corp. of New York, was tax-free because it represented gifts.

placements and 884 miles of other projects.

Preston was asked by Rep. Don K. Cooper, R-Ashland, if a $10 million federal bonus—for which Ohio could become eligible by making changes in a state law to control billboards along the interstate system—might fail to materialize and just be a tool to gain states' compliance. Preston said he is reasonably certain Ohio will get the money if it changes the law, and noted that the bonus is not effective until July 1.

The House Highways Committee is studying the bill which would make the changes. The incentive payment is available to states which control outdoor advertising visible to motorists within 660 feet of an interstate highway.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

High pressure extending from the Great Lakes southward to the Gulf of Mexico controlled the Ohio weather overnight, resulting in clear skies over all sections.

Early morning temperatures were mostly in the 30s. Zanesville had 29, Toledo 31, Cleveland 36, Columbus 39 and Cincinnati 40.

High pressure will continue to influence the weather Friday, and we'll have fair skies and warmer temperatures.

Low temperatures tonight will be in the 40s, and Friday they're expected to rise to the 70s, making it the warmest day of spring.

Long Call for Help

HONOLULU (AP)—The Honolulu Fire Department has answered the longest call in its history—2,300 miles.

It wasn't a fire, but a call for help from the Federal Aviation Agency on Wake Island. The FAA complained that there were no trained first-aid personnel on the island.

The fire department sent first-aid expert Lt. Boniface Aiu to Wake to give Red Cross courses to 83 FAA employees.

Trucker, 50 Hogs Die In Turnpike Accident

FREMONT, Ohio (AP)—An Indiana truck driver was killed early today in a collision on the Ohio Turnpike just east of the Fremont interchange. He was Howard Acheson, 24, of Rt. 2, Delphi, Ind.

Officers said his truck crashed into the rear of a turnpike wrecker which was patrolling the toll road and overturned. About 50 hogs in the truck also were killed. More than 100 other swine which spilled out were rounded up by police.

Ex-Executive Convicted Of Federal Tax Dodge

CINCINNATI (AP)—A federal court jury has convicted Ernst L. Myers of Cincinnati, once assistant purchasing agent for an Allis-Chalmers Mfg. Co. plant in nearby Norwood, of income tax evasion.

The verdict came Wednesday after testimony indicated Myers took a total of $10,000 as kickbacks on sale of scrap copper in 1954-1955, but failed to report it as income. Myers contended the money from George Primus, president of Industrial Components Corp. of New York, was tax-free because it represented gifts.

Trampolines

Q. Do the new low-calorie liquids contain anything to dull the appetite?

A. The original "900 calorie" product contains no appetite-suppressing drug. It is a mixture of nonfat milk solids, soy flour, vegetable oils, starch, sugar, flavoring, vitamins, and minerals.

Morning Nausea

Q. Is "morning nausea" a sign that the baby will be lost?

A. No. In fact, some doctors say that expectant mothers who have morning nausea seldom abort. One physician divides pregnant patients into two groups: those who may lose their baby (non-vomitters) and those who may not (vomitters). This doesn't mean, of course, that all non-vomitters abort.

For Every Baby

Q. Is the saying, "For every baby a tooth" true?

A. Apparently not. The old notion that pregnancy robs the mother's teeth of calcium and thus causes cavities has been disproved by several medical investigators. But the expectant mother shouldn't neglect her teeth. The best time for extensive dental work is probably between the twentieth and twenty-eighth week of pregnancy. This is especially true if the dental work requires general anesthesia rather than use of just a local anesthetic. Minor tooth troubles can and should be attended to any time before the baby arrives.

Measured by fast relief from pain or swift recovery from illness—prescribed medicine is priceless. Measured by our reasonable prices, prescribed medicine is the biggest "bargain" money can buy.

Ashville, Walnut, Scioto
In Tourney Baseball Wins

Three games in the Pickaway County Baseball tournament yesterday saw Ashville, Walnut and Scioto grab wins. The test between Logan Elm and Monroe was not played due to a wet diamond.

Ashville thumped Jackson, 9-0. Walnut edged Darby, 9-7, and Scioto eased past Williamsport, 10-0.

Pitcher Dick Hollenback racked the win for Ashville as he twirled a two-hitter by fanning 11 and walking two. The Broncos came up with nine hits, including three-for-four by Jim Gregg and two-for-four by Jim Brown. Sonny Roof and Dick Hollenback each poked a double.

Jackson's Martindale had the longest blow of the day, a triple.

RONNIE Clifton handled the mound assignment for Jackson. He whiffed five and walked none.

Ashville scored three runs after several scoreless innings, then cut loose for six in the sixth frame. The Broncos now stand 5-0 for the season.

The Williamsport - Scioto tilt was played on the Ashville diamond.

Scioto scored the initial run in the first inning, two in the third, six in the fourth and one in the fifth.

Winning hurler was Wilkins who went the distance, fanning eight and walking three.

Anderson fanned five for Williamsport and walked four. Steinhauser took over and struck out two and walked four.

Scheduled to get underway at 1:30 p.m., the sulky program will feature eight one-mile dashes behind a mobile starting gate.

Sponsored by the Fayette County Horsemen's Assn., the program's financial proceeds will go to improve the Fayette speed program.

A similar program is scheduled in Circleville at the Pickaway Fairgrounds oval on Sunday afternoon, April 30.

Details of the Pickaway program have not been worked out.

Lucas Track
May Get OK
On Sulky Card

COLUMBUS Ohio (AP) — Ohio may have an extra 44 nights of harness races this year if pending court action is cleared in time.

This was brought out at the State Racing Commission meeting Wednesday when Zoltan Gombos, a former chairman of the commission, came to ask it to seek clarification from the attorney general of Gombos' status as lessee of the Lucas County Agricultural Society.

Gombos said the society is interested in the dates of June 17 to July 15 and Aug. 19 to Sept. 9 for night races at the Lucas County Fairgrounds. The society has made no formal request to the commission, and the commission said it will take no action until legal matters are clarified and a formal request for racing dates is submitted.

The society's board of directors has accepted Gombos' proposal to lease the fairgrounds track for night harness races, but pending court action on the previous lease must be clarified before final arrangements can be made.

The commission means a while named five veterinarians to represent it at various tracks—Dr. H. V. Beavers, Beulah Park; Dr. J. B. Morse, Randall; Dr. George S. Mechling, Scioto Downs; Dr. B. J. Bowman, Lebanon, and Dr. William E. Holland, Northfield.

The commission spent most of the day on licensing of mutual window clerks, grooms and others for the summer racing program.

Palmer, Player
To Resume Duel

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Arnold Palmer and Gary Player resumed their golf duel today in the opening round of the $40,000 Houston Classic.

The stars of the Masters tournament two weeks ago were heavy favorites to battle it out for the $7,000 first prize.

Palmer rated a narrow edge although his first practice rounds since losing to Player at Augusta were not as impressive as those of the South Africa star.

After a week's absence from the tournament trail, Player tuned up practice rounds of 70, 66, and 68 for the 7,122-yard, par 35-35-70 Memorial Park course. Palmer had a 74 Tuesday and declined to discuss his score for his final warm up Wednesday.

Winter Trade Pays Off for Detroit Outfit

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Detroit's winter trade with Milwaukee that brought outfielder Billy Bruton, catcher Dick Brown, pitcher Terry Fox and infielder Chuck Cottier for Frank Bolling may turn out to be the steal of the year.

All four ex-Braves played important roles in the Tigers' 5-2 triumph over Cleveland Wednesday, lifting them into second place in the American League, one game in back of the surprising Minnesota Twins.

Bruton rapped a pair of singles and scored Detroit's first two runs. Brown also had two singles. Cottier drove in the final run of the Tigers' winning four-run rally in the eighth. Fox got credit for the Tiger victory.

The most important blow, however, was delivered by Steve Boros. The rookie third baseman cracked a three-run double off reliever Frank Funk to spoil the Indians' home opener. Three bases on balls set the stage for Boros' game-winning blow.

In the only other game played in the American League, Washington defeated the Chicago White Sox 7-2. Rain forced the postponement of the Minnesota-Red Sox game in Boston, and the Los Angeles-Yankee game in New York and Kansas City at Baltimore.

Marty Kutyna, a pickup from Kansas City last December, pitched six scoreless relief innings against the White Sox, and singled across two runs in the fourth to give the Senators a 4-2 lead. He yielded only four hits after replacing starter Ed Ho- bough in the third to get the victory.

Billy Pierce, who yielded for a pinchhitter in the fourth, was the White Sox starter and loser.

Any day now they'll be calling sliced home runs over the left field screen in the Los Angeles Coliseum "moon-shots." That's because the Dodgers' southpaw swinging Wally Moon appears to have perfected the art of dumping fly balls for homers in that sector.

Moon has hit six home runs in eight games, all over the Coliseum's 42-foot-high left field screen, only 251 feet from home plate. The Dodger outfielder, an honor student at Texas A&M some years ago, claims a newly perfected "reverse English" swing has been largely responsible for his sudden rash of homers.

In any event, Wally struck two of those "moon-shots" Wednesday night to lead the Dodgers to a 7-2 triumph over the St. Louis Cardinals. The first homer came with two on in the first inning. The second was a solo flight in the fourth. He walked in the sixth and slashed a run-scoring single—to center—in the seventh to account for five runs batted in with a perfect evening at the plate.

Cincinnati made it two straight over San Francisco with a 4-2 triumph and retained first place in the National League. Pittsburgh climbed into second place with a 4-1 victory over Chicago. Rain stopped Milwaukee and Philadelphia for the second straight day.

Don Drysdale, although tagged for nine hits, went all the way for the Dodgers, to record his second victory against one defeat. Ernie Broglio was the loser.

Bob Friend pitched a three-hitter and Dick Groat, Bob Skinner and Roberto Clemente each had two hits in the Pirate victory over the Cubs. Ernie Banks' home run in the seventh spoiled a shutout bid by Friend.

Eddie Kasko's scoring single sparked a two-run ninth that enabled the Reds to snap a 2-2 tie with the Giants. Rookie right-hander Ken Hunt worked eight innings and won his first major league start. Jack Sanford was the loser.

Sibbick's 601
High for Keglers

High scores filled the sheets in Early Monday bowling this week at Circle D.

Bill Sibbick of Moore's Store was on the mark as he rolled a 601 series on games of 210, 202 and 189. Close behind was Dallas Elliott, also of Moore's, with a 596.

Also scoring high for three games were Tom Alkire with 583, Gene Muehring 581, Dick Baskirk 574, Bob Callahan 568, Bill Dietrich 564, Bob Hutzelman 559 and Jack Leasure 550.

Other high single games were posted by Dick Buskirk at 248, Ed Bohrer 234, Dallas Elliott 222 and 202, Bob Callahan 216, Gene Muehring 214 and 201, Tom Alkire 206 and 202, Marion Good 211, Jack Leasure 203, John Grenwich 204 and Pete Noble 202. All individual scores were without handicap.

Liston Trying To Shed Past

Ring Associates
Bar Title Match

NEW YORK (AP)—Sonny Liston, the No. 1 heavyweight boxing contender, may get his long-sought crack at Floyd Patterson's world title next year if he satisfies all concerned that he is free of undesirable associates.

But his parting Wednesday with manager Joseph Barone brought only lukewarm reactions from two of those most concerned—Patterson and Sen. Estes Kefauver, sponsor of a bill to place boxing under federal control.

Liston bought his contract from Barone after a conference at Allentown, Pa., in which the manager agreed to accept $75,000, to be paid from Liston's earnings over the next two years.

Kefauver has said that Barone was only a front for Frankie Carbo and Blinky Palermo, alleged underworld boxing figures, and that he feared the heavyweight title would "revert to mob control" if Liston should win it.

Patterson, who has refused to consider a bout with Liston because of his associates, said that Sonny "will still have to prove that he is free of all outside harmful influences" before he could qualify for a title bout.

The fact that Liston "ostensibly" has purchased his contract from Barone doesn't remove all the objections, the champion said.

Patterson also told Tom Bolan, president of Championship Sports, Inc., the new promotional corporation, that since Liston mentioned satisfying the Kefauver committee, that would seem to be Liston's first step toward clearing the way for a fight.

Liston said that before signing with a new manager he would submit the name to Kefauver for approval.

"I'm not in the manager-picking business," the senator said when told of his suggestion.

"I'd like to see Liston get a shot at the title if he finally has shed all the barnacles he has been carrying. But he still may have to shed some others."

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Pat Oliveri, manager of Harold Johnson, National Boxing Association light heavyweight champion, said today the 32-year-old veteran is in "top shape" for his first title defense against Von Clay at the arena Monday night.

And Oliveri predicted that the scheduled 15 round fight wouldn't go more than six rounds with Johnson knocking out the 21-year-old Clay.

Both Johnson and Clay took off from training today for their pre-fight physical examination at the Pennsylvania State Athletic Commission offices.

While Johnson has been training here, Clay has been working out in nearby Pleasantville, N. J.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear son and brother, Marvin Eugene Hanley, who was killed on April 20, 1959, at the age of 17 years.
Where the flowers gently wave,
Lies the one we loved so dearly,
But whose life we could not save.
God knows how much we miss him,
He counts the tears we shed,
And whispers that he only sleeps,
For as long as there is memory,
Of the one we loved so dear.
Oh, we listen for his coming,
Fully sure that he is near.
You are gone, but not forgotten,
Fresh our love will ever be.
We will always think of thee,
If all the world was ours to give,
We'd give it yes and more.
To see the face of the one we loved,
And have him back once more.
Sadly missed by father and mother,
Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hanley, sisters, Evelyn, Rose Mary, and Delores, brothers Paul, Melvin and Donald.

NEW YORK (AP)—Those commercials-filled moments between TV programs may soon be even longer and more commercials-filled than ever.

The American Broadcasting Company has decided to expand its "station breaks" between programs next season from 30 to 42 seconds. If it goes through with its plans, the other two competitive networks will be forced to follow suit.

Meanwhile, the expansion is causing a fierce behind-the-scenes controversy, particularly by sponsors of network programs, who feel it is done at their expense.

In theory, station breaks are designed to give local broadcasting stations an opportunity to identify themselves between programs.

In practice, most stations use a few seconds to flash their call letters on the home screens—and devote the rest of the time to profitable local commercials. And although the television code of the National Association of Broadcasters, to which most subscribe, states specifically that station breaks shall include "not more than two announcements," they are often jammed with three short commercials, a frowned-upon practice called "triple-spotting."

Network advertisers deplore the plan because they figure the extra seconds will be taken from their programs. Oliver Treyz, president of ABC, defends it on the ground it will provide extra revenue for local stations.

Nobody has asked the viewers who they feel about further commercial encroachment on their "free" TV, but it wouldn't be hard to guess their answer.

Broderick Crawford, who has been away from television since the end of his syndicated "Highway Patrol" series a couple of seasons back, returns next season with a new action series, "King of Diamonds," playing a security man for the jewel industry.

Darryl Hickman, one of the stars of NBC's "The Americans" wrote the script for Sunday night's Loretta Young Show.

Recommended tonight: "Highlights of the 1961 Circus," CBS, 8-9 (Eastern Standard Time)—Arthur Godfrey is ringmaster. "Salute to Spring," ABC, 8:30-9:30—a Pat Boone special; Ernie Kovacs Special, ABC, 10:30-11.

The nation's maintenance and repair bill for buildings of all kinds has grown to around $20 billion a year.

Wed 4 Times, Bette Davis Says It Just Won't Work

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Marry again? Nevermore, says Bette Davis. "I just don't think it can work—not for career women," she said with characteristic frankness. "God knows I've tried. "It's too bad that it won't work, because I like men. I just can't stay married to them." Bette's marriage to Gary Merrill recently broke up. She was previously divorced from Harmon Nelson and William Grant Sherry and widowed by Arthur Farnsworth.

"I don't believe a happy marriage is possible for those people who have set out to do something in life," she concluded. "Such people have to devote their full energies to what they are aiming to do; there isn't much left over for marriage."

"It's especially difficult for women in this (acting) business. It is time consuming. And there is the matter of making more money than your husband does. I don't think that deep down inside a man, he can adjust to that situation. He may say he does but he doesn't."

"Career people are born lonely," she replied. "Fortunately for me, I have my children. I acquired them later in life than most women, so they are a comfort to me now. You're always occupied when there are children around."

She added reflectively: "Yes, career people are lonely. But they can also be happy. Like coming home when you know you've done a good day's work. There is no greater satisfaction than that."

Bette is plunging into work again. She is doing her first Hollywood film in five years—the last was "A Catered Affair." She's now working for Frank Capra in "A Pocketful of Miracles," remake of the Damon Runyon tale "Lady for a Day" which he filmed in 1933.

Gary Cooper Is Reported Gravely Ill

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Sources close to Gary Cooper say the veteran film star is gravely ill with cancer—and knows it.

The word followed an announcement by a family spokesman Wednesday that the lanky, laconic actor is critically ill.

Cooper, who will be 60 on May 7, is confined to his Bel-Air home. The onetime Montana cowboy has starred in 70 pictures, winning Oscars as the World War I hero in 1941's "Sergeant York" and as the duty-bound sheriff in

1952's "High Noon."

Speculation about his physical condition had heightened since the annual academy awards ceremonies Monday night. Fellow star James Stewart accepted a special honorary award for Cooper and, addressing him directly into the television camera, nearly broke into tears as he spoke words of tribute.

Publisher Warren Cowan announced Wednesday: "Because the Cooper family has been inundated by inquiries about his health since the James Stewart presentation, I am asked by the family to say that he is gravely ill."

Cowan did not disclose the nature of the ailment. This word came afterward, privately, from several sources.

Spend It Wisely

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — A woman walked into the Internal Revenue office here, submitted her income tax report and paid in cash.

She lingered at the window and the clerk asked if she could help her.

"I just hope you send my money to some good country," she replied.

HAPPY LANDING, WINNIE!—Ending a two-day visit to the United States which he never expected to make, Sir Winston Churchill, 86, rides to International Airport in New York with his old friend, Bernard Baruch, 90. The former British prime minister showed fatigue as he was put aboard a jet.
